From the Desk of the UK Fire Marshal

“An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.”

-Benjamin Franklin, 1736 -

Although many use this quote when referring to health, Benjamin Franklin was actually referring to fire safety. Seeing the devastating effects on life and property caused by fire, Mr. Franklin realized that by changing the culture and practices of society in Philadelphia, he could transform the city into one of the most fire safe cities in the country. His efforts introduced fire safe practices to the citizens to prevent fires from occurring and addressed situations unique to the time. Although there were no existing building, fire, or life safety codes at the time, Mr. Franklin’s insight of the dangers of fire laid the cornerstone of today’s existing building, fire, and life safety codes and standards widely accepted and practiced throughout the country.

The University of Kentucky is an institution of long-standing traditions synonymous with a drive to be the best. The University of Kentucky (UK) Fire Marshal Office, in keeping with our tradition, has long championed the spirit of fire safety and higher education. “Prevention by Education” is the mantra that we follow to protect our students, staff, faculty, property, research, and all UK interests from the catastrophic effects of a fire incident. We believe that the single best way to mitigate a fire incident and protecting our campus from a fire incident is to prevent it from occurring. Public education, plan review, and code compliance are critical components to our successful fire and life safety program.

The University of Kentucky Fire Marshal Office mission is the fire and life safety protection of our students, faculty, and staff on campus and in all UK affiliated facilities. We support our mission statement by working tirelessly behind the scenes to ensure that life safety, building, and fire codes followed. We educate our community on the importance of fire safety and provide fire prevention and life safety lessons that one can apply here on campus and throughout their lives.

We review construction drawings prior to construction. Inspect building projects during construction. Inspect existing facilities-Provide fire/life safety training for all students, faculty and staff-Investigate and resolve fire related issues-Train event workers on what to do in the event of a fire-Review all planned events and review/attend all major events (events with large numbers of guest expected)-Provide and maintain fire extinguishers throughout the campus facilities. Serve on state and national committees in an effort to improve codes and standards throughout the nation-Provide our services to other colleges and universities throughout the state-Assist and escort state inspection agencies in our facilities.

Last year reflected the continued transformation of campus with major capital projects. Two new resident halls, Holmes Hall and Boyd Hall, opened and two more began construction. The Academic Science building and the new Football Training Center opened in the fall of 2016. The Gatton Building was completed as well as several major renovations including those in the Multi-Disciplinary Building and in Chandler Hospital.

The Fire Marshal's Office (UKFM) has continued to insure that these facilities are designed, reviewed, inspected and constructed in accordance with the required codes and the University of Kentucky standards. We strive to provide the students, faculty, staff and public with a safe environment. We reviewed, inspected in excess of $450 million in Capital Projects (CPMD). In projects in which the UKFM has jurisdiction, we reviewed, inspected and issued Certificate of Occupancy in excess of $5.4 Million. This year we reviewed 204 projects, a 25% increase from 2015 and reflects a budgeting cost in excess of $18 million. We conducted 300 inspections and Issued Certificate of Occupancy or closed 151 different projects, a 75% close rate for the year.

The University of Kentucky Fire Marshal Office advocates for fire prevention, fire and life safety codes, and public education throughout the country. Our office serves on three national committees, NFPA Technical Committee 45, NFPA Technical Committee 101, and NFPA Technical Committee 5000 as a principal voting member reviewing, writing, and improving fire and life safety codes. We are a contributing principal member of the ICC (International Code Committee) working group for the IFC (International Fire Code) Fire Safety in Higher Education Committee.

Fire prevention is a core fundamental to protect our campus from fire incidents. Our office strives to ensure that not only that our campus partners have the best training available, but also our personnel are educated on the latest trends for campus fire safety. We collaborate with state and national fire authorities on development of fire prevention initiatives to address current trends in fire safety and resolve current issues noted on college campuses throughout the nation. We provide guidance in national conferences with presentations, initiating focus groups and town and gown events discussing areas of concern and striving to lead in campus fire safety. We conducted 452 inspections, observed 221 Fire Drills and held 370 fire/life safety classes with a total of 22,872 participants/students receiving training. This office attended CAAK (Code Administrators Association of Kentucky) Conference, Congressional Fire Services Conference Campus Fire Safety Seminar and presented at the CSHEMA Conference and the NFPA (National Fire Protection Association).

We demonstrated fire safety utilizing our mock dorm burn unit nine times last year on our campus and other campuses in collaboration with our higher education fire safety colleagues to teach fire safety to their communities. We demonstrated the speed in which a fire develops and becomes a deadly situation at the Lexington Fire Annual Fire Prevention Festival at Masterson Station Park and at area high schools as part of a pilot program initiated by the UK Fire

Marshal to target high school seniors attending college the next fall. The Mobile Burn Unit continues to be our most effective teaching tool in demonstrating how quickly a fire situation develops, the importance of reacting to an activated smoke detector or fire alarm and evacuating a building.

We attended multiple athletic events, concerts and events presented by our partners at UK Student Activities Board, UK Event Management, and various UK colleges and divisions as part of the command structure for emergency planning and events, code enforcement to ensure the safety of our students, faculty, staff, athletes, and guests. We assist our campus partners with the planning, review, and code enforcement with programs that include DanceBlue, K Week, UK Commencement (s), guest speakers, special functions, Homecoming, and a host of other events.

We use our social media accounts to stay in contact with the community we serve. Connecting with our community on fire safety issues, respond to concerns regarding fire safety, building or life safety issues, and to issue timely fire and life safety messages to our community to educate and let them know what we are doing. We were keynote panel speakers on a national live Twitter feed about campus fire safety across the nation in conjunction with the NFPA, National Fire Academy, and FEMA during September Campus Fire Safety Month 2016.

Mr. Franklin understood that prevention is not enough, that preparing for the eventual crisis would require organization, coordination, and training. Good intentions do not alleviate disaster or mitigate loss. His quote holds as true today as it was then. Small, but necessary steps taken now can prevent and mitigate a deadly fire situation from occurring.

The UK Fire Marshal believes that a successful fire safety program starts with public education. Educating our students, staff, and faculty on the dangers of fire and the preventative steps that you can practice to inhibit a potential life threatening fire situation is a core unit of our office. Plan review, building code review and policy initiation is another core unit for fire and life safety and property conservation. Once a facility is complete, it transitions into code enforcement, the third core unit, fire and life safety through facility inspections and public education. Together, they form a foundation in which to build and continue a successful fire safety program.

The UK Fire Marshal will continue to do our part and we are always available to serve you. Stay Fire Safe UK and GO CATS!

University Of Kentucky Fire Marshal

The University of Kentucky Fire Marshal Office, established in 1966 and known as the UK Safety and Security Department, was the first designated safety department for our campus. Today, the University of Kentucky (UK) Environmental Health and Safety is responsible for the overall safety of the UK community. A division of UK EH&S, the University of Kentucky Fire Marshal's Office is responsible for protecting the lives, property, interests, and stakeholders from the devastating effects of fire. Our office ensures that the University of Kentucky is compliant with all federal, state, and local laws, building and fire codes by serving as the Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) for building fire prevention, public education, code compliance and enforcement, and plan review for all of our new and existing facilities.

Mission Statement: The mission of the University Fire Marshal is to handle fire prevention and training, fire suppression systems, fire extinguisher inspection and maintenance, life safety audits, emergency evacuation planning, and building code compliance. The University Fire Marshal has the delegated authority for plan review and approval of in-house construction and renovation projects (i.e., non-capital projects which do not exceed a cost of $1,000,000).

Annual Safety and Security Report

Each year the University of Kentucky Police Department Division of Crisis Management and Preparedness completes an Annual Campus Safety and Security Report. It includes yearly crime statistics, compliance requirements of the Clery and Minger Acts, coordination of the timely release of all Campus Crime Bulletins, contact information, and other safety and crime information to members of the campus community.

To view or to obtain a copy of the University's Annual Campus Safety and Security Report visit the University of Kentucky Crisis Management and Preparedness website at <http://www.uky.edu/EM/documents/ASR2017Final.pdf> or contact the UK Police Department Division of Crisis Management & Preparedness at (859) 257-3815

Campus Security Act Legal Requirements

Federal Law: The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (referred to as the Clery Act) is part of the Higher Education Opportunity Act. It requires institutions of higher education that receive federal financial aid to report specified crime statistics on college campuses and to provide other safety and crime information to members of the campus community. The U.S. Department of Education holds enforcement authority for the Clery Act. Each violation of the regulations that define reporting requirements can result in a fine of $35,000 per violation.

State Law: The Michael Minger Life Safety Act (referred to as the Minger Act) requires institutions of higher education in Kentucky to report crime statistics to current and prospective students and employees. The University Fire Marshal is required to maintain a daily fire log, to report a fire or threat of fire to the State Fire Marshal immediately, and to issue special reports when there is an ongoing threat to the safety of students and employees. Annual report of campus safety policies, programs and statistics is required for submission to the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education.

Compliance: CMP with the University of Kentucky Police Department (UKPD) is the designated compliance office for ensuring that the requirements of the Clery and Minger Acts are met by the designated Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) and the University. CMP is also responsible for issuing the annual reports and for coordinating the release of all Campus Crime Bulletins. This designation is listed in University Administrative Regulation (AR) 6:7 titled “POLICY ON DISCLOSURE OF CAMPUS SECURITY AND CRIME STATISTICS.” Full text available at: www.uky.edu/Regs/files/ar/ar6-7.pdf

All University buildings have fire alarm systems monitored by a central station. When a fire alarm activates, the central station automatically notifies the Lexington Fire Department and the University Police Department (UKPD). Call 911 (#8573 from your cell phone on campus) after you have evacuated the building. The UKPD notifies all essential personnel via the RAVE system (cell phone, text and email). Students only need to report a fire to the UKPD via 911.

September is National Campus Fire Safety Month and the official kick off for our fire safety campaign. We conduct fire and life safety training throughout the campus, including giving out t-shirts with the year's fire safety message, conduct fire extinguisher training, and review fire and life safety practices with students, faculty, and staff.

The highlight of the month are the fire demonstrations utilizing the Mock Dorm Burn Unit. We outfit a mobile burn unit with standard fire-resistant drywall, fire resistant furniture (donated to us by UK Housing) and set up a typical resident room. A small flame is introduced through a special opening on the outside of the room is allowed to develop in real time. We engage the audience from start to finish, explaining the varying temperature increase as the fire evolves, the visual effect of the smoke building up and then banking down on the room until the room is fully involved.

September is Campus Fire Safety Month

- Introduced in 2005
- Nationwide effort to address campus fires on college campuses
- Focus on public awareness programs administered to college students on the importance of fire safety
- University of Kentucky Fire Marshal has introduced our fire safety campaign every year and is springboard for our training and education programs throughout the year

Campus Fire Safety Facts

Our office conducts fire and life safety training through the year to all of our staff, faculty, and students. We conduct the annual fire safety training for all of our Greek and resident halls. We teach them how to contact 911, what to do in the case of a fire situation, meeting places in the event of evacuation, and the importance of responding to a fire alarm, even if they do not smell or see smoke or fire.

Our office supports our community first responders by providing facilities to their organizations to train on campus. We have provided classroom and decommissioned buildings for local fire fighters to perform didactic training in real time for their personnel. We have also provided support for their Annual State Fire School, the largest fire fighter and emergency responder training conference in the state of Kentucky. We invite our local emergency responders to visit our facilities to pre-plan a level of attack to address and mitigate potential fire and life safety situations.

Fire drills are required in all resident halls with one walkthrough scheduled at the time of move in (reviewed during student introductory floor meetings) and two unannounced (one during the fall semester and one during the spring semester). Evacuation is mandatory on campus, all building occupants MUST evacuate in the event of a fire alarm. We strive to evacuate within 2-3 minutes of fire alarm activation regardless of building size.

The University Fire Marshal office believes that enforcing minimum requirements of the building, fire, and life safety codes are vital to protecting our stakeholders. A key element to our fire prevention program concentrates on ensuring that construction for new and existing facilities are safe for our community. Our office advocates for campus fire safety by not only enforcing existing codes, but also lending our voice in the development and implementation of the new code revisions. In 2016, we were part of the IFC Chapter 38 working group that advocated, wrote, and successfully presented a new addition to the International Fire Code that addressed code deficiencies for fire and life safety in laboratories in higher education.

The Fire Marshal's Office (UKFM) has continued to insure that these facilities are constructed according to required codes and University of Kentucky standards. We reviewed $450 million in Capital Projects (CPMD). In projects in which the UKFM has jurisdiction, we reviewed, inspected and issued Certificate of Occupancy in excess of $5.4 Million. This year we reviewed 204 projects, conducted 300 inspections and Issued Certificate of Occupancy or closed 151 different projects.

The University of Kentucky Fire Marshal Office advocates for fire prevention, fire and life safety codes, and public education throughout the country. Our office serves on three national committees, NFPA Technical Committee 45, NFPA Technical Committee 101, and NFPA Technical Committee 5000 as a principal voting member reviewing, writing, and improving fire and life safety codes. We are a contributing principal member of the ICC (International Code Committee) working group for the IFC (International Fire Code) Fire Safety in Higher Education Committee.

Life-safety code compliance and enforcement is a large part of what we do here in our office to ensure that our campus community is safe. Our staff attends numerous events throughout the year conducting fire and life safety checks including athletic events, concerts, commencement, press conferences, K Week, and Homecoming, just to name a few. We work hard to keep our facilities safe and conduct life safety checks at any event that has a larger group assembly.

Saturdays, our UK football Fans typically make our campus the third largest city within the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Our eight time national champion Men's Basketball team fills Rupp Arena to the rafters. Men and Women's Soccer, UK Softball, and UK Volleyball, UK Rifle, all consistently rank in the top 25 teams in their respective sports in the country. UK Athletics continues to thrive with our student athletes striving to achieve that championship season.

Our office works hard to ensure a safe and positive experience for our student athletes, our campus community, and all of Big Blue Nation attending UK events. GO CATS!

Electrical Appliances, Smoking and Open Flames Policies

The University Fire/Life Safety Policy for On-Campus Student Housing Policy

http://ehs.uky.edu/docs/pdf/fs_life_safety_policy.pdf contains information on electrical appliances, smoking and open flames.

Part I, Section E, is related to a student's room. In this section, students are informed that smoking is not permitted in any University building. Candles and incense (open flames) are not permitted in student housing.

Evacuation Policy

The University has a mandatory evacuation policy found at the link below.

<http://ehs.uky.edu/fire/evacuation.html>.

All students, faculty and staff are required to evacuate in the event of a fire alarm. This policy applies to all buildings at any time. The only exception to this policy is in patient related areas such as the University Hospitals.

Any student that violates the evacuation policy is subject to disciplinary actions by the Dean of Students Office.

Utilizing the Building Emergency Action Plan (BEAP), the Hall Directors and Resident Advisors train occupants on the procedures for evacuation.

Procedures include but are not limited to:

1. When the alarm sounds start evacuating immediately.
2. Make sure the fire is not outside your door.
3. Never go toward the smoke (find another way out).
4. Go to your assigned meeting location.
5. If you are trapped by the fire call 911.
6. Report anyone that did not evacuate to your Resident Advisor or Hall Director.

Education and Training Policy

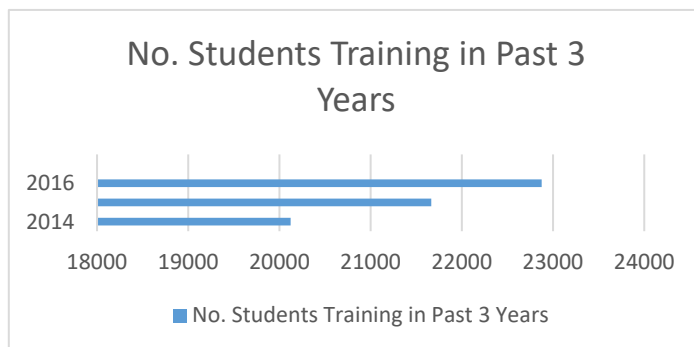

All occupants living in on-campus housing are required to have fire/life safety training as outlined in the Fire/Life Safety Policy for On-Campus Housing http://ehs.uky.edu/docs/pdf/fs_life_safety_policy.pdf.

All fire/life safety training is required to be conducted or approved by the Office of the University Fire Marshal.

All Hall Directors and Resident Advisors are required to have fire and life safety training prior to students moving into the residence halls. Resident Advisors are required to complete a fire safety class within the first few weeks of each new school year.

The President or designee of each Greek Organization is to ensure that all occupants read and understand the fire/life safety policy and to schedule a fire/life safety class within the first two weeks of each semester.

The University Fire Marshal Office is committed to the safety and well-being of our campus community. It is everyone's personal responsibility to invest in his or her personal safety. We cannot do it without you. This office is committed, in the storied tradition of the University of Kentucky, to be the best at what we do. We look forward to continuing to lead the charge in setting the bar for fire safety for higher education. With your help, we will protect our campus and work towards a fire free campus.
